The Keeper of the Bees Jun 06 2020 The very last novel that Gene Stratton-Porter wrote before death. The tale of a wounded World War I veteran, a beekeeper and an impish tomboy all help each other. A book that examines the healing power that nature and kindness can have upon life. (Notice from the Publisher) We have been made aware of a few formatting issues in first of this book. Business Structure, Business Culture, and the Industrial Districts of North Staffordshire Aug 01 2019 North Staffordshire has been synonymous with the manufacture of pottery for more than 200 years. This book is the comprehensive business history of the North Staffordshire pottery industry during a critical period of development, from the nineteenth century to the eve of World War One. Adopting an explicitly business perspective, the work focuses on the interaction of business structure and business culture in the development of an intensely clustered industry. Major themes include personal capitalism, networks, business strategy and technological change, each explored in terms of the rapidly changing environment of the industry in this period. A detailed reconstruction of the structure of the industry is augmented by several important firm case studies, from high-class manufacturers Minton's Ltd to the auxiliary firm Jesse Shirley & Co. Making a significant contribution to our knowledge of the potteries, the book provides insights into the nature of industrial districts.
