Il corsivo dalla A alla Z Jul 09 2020 Mentre da tempo sono disponibili metodi e strumenti validi per affrontare le difficoltà di tipo ortografico (disortografia) o per imparare a comporre un testo scritto, sono invece scarsi i contributi per l'insegnamento e il recupero delle abilità grafo-motorie (disgrafia). Di fatto, però, se il bambino non impara a tracciare correttamente le lettere finirà per automatizzare dei movimenti poco o per nulla efficaci, che comprometteranno l'apprendimento di altri aspetti della scrittura e di diverse competenze cognitive. I due volumi Il corsivo dalla A alla Z si presentano come un'assoluta novità, occupandosi in modo specifico della meccanica della scrittura e affrontando, in particolare, il passaggio dalla produzione di lettere in stampatello (spazialmente separate e caratterizzate da pochi tratti distintivi) a quella di lettere in corsivo (che richiedono la gestione di un sistema grafico fluido), che dal punto di vista grafo-motorio rappresenta un momento particolarmente critico per l'apprendimento della scrittura e per il rapporto che i bambini potranno avere con essa. L'opera -- che si articola in un volume di teoria e uno di pratica -- tratta le fasi iniziali dell'apprendimento della scrittura focalizzando l'attenzione sui processi che ne permettono uno sviluppo normale e che eventualmente possono essere rafforzati per favorire il recupero di un disturbo disgrafico già consolidato. Si rivolge ai professionisti dell'età evolutiva e a chi più direttamente segue il bambino negli apprendimenti scolastici.

Italian Horror Film Directors Apr 17 2021 There is no cinema with such effect as that of the hallucinatory Italian horror film. From Riccardo Freda's I Vampiri in 1956 to Il Cartaio in 2004, this work recounts the origins of the genre, celebrates at length ten of its auteurs, and discusses the noteworthy films of many others associated with the genre. The directors discussed in detail are Dario Argento, Lamberto Bava, Mario Bava, Ruggero Deodato, Lucio Fulci, Umberto Lenzi, Antonio Margheriti, Aristide Massaccesi, Bruno Mattei, and Michele Soavi. Each chapter includes a biography, a detailed career account, discussion of influences both literary and cinematic, commentary on the films, with plots and production details, and an exhaustive filmography. A second section contains short discussions and selected filmographies of other important horror directors. The work concludes with a chapter on the future of Italian horror and an appendix of important horror films by directors other than the 50 profiled. Stills, posters, and behind-the-scenes shots illustrate the book.

Abstract Convexity and Global Optimization Feb 25 2022 Special tools are required for examining and solving optimization problems. The main tools in the study of local optimization are classical calculus and its modern generalizations which form nonsmooth analysis. The gradient and various kinds of generalized derivatives allow us to accomplish a local approximation of a given function in a neighbourhood of a given point. This kind of approximation is very useful in the study of local extrema. However, local approximation alone cannot help to solve many problems of global optimization, so there is a clear need to develop special global tools for solving these problems. The simplest and most well-known area of global and simultaneously local optimization is convex programming. The fundamental tool in the study of convex optimization problems is the subgradient, which actually plays both a local and global role. First, a subgradient of a convex function f at a point x carries out a local approximation of f in a neighbourhood of x . Second, the subgradient permits the construction of an affine function, which does not exceed f over the entire space and coincides with f at x . This affine function h is called a support function. Since $f(y) \sim h(y)$ for all y , the second role is global. In contrast to a local approximation, the function h will be called a global affine support.

Advances in Imaging and Electron Physics Jan 03 2020 Advances in Imaging and Electron Physics merges two long-running serials Advances in Electronics and Electron Physics and Advances in Optical and Electron Microscopy. This series features extended articles on the physics of electron devices (especially semiconductor devices), particle optics at high and low energies, microlithography, image science and digital image processing, electromagnetic wave propagation, electron microscopy, and the computing methods used in all these domains. This monograph summarizes the authors' knowledge and experience acquired over many years in their work on computational charged particle optics. Its main message is that even in this era of powerful computers with a multitude of general-purpose and problem-oriented programs, asymptotic analysis based on perturbation theory remains one of the most effective tools to penetrate deeply into the essence of the problem in question.

Diversity Mar 05 2020 How do people deal with diversity in deprived and mixed urban neighbourhoods? This edited collection provides a comparative international perspective on superdiversity in cities, with explicit attention given to social inequality and social exclusion on a neighbourhood level. Although public discourses on urban diversity are often negative, this book focuses on how residents actively and creatively come and live together through micro-level interactions. By deliberately taking an international perspective on the daily lives of residents, the book uncovers the ways in which national and local contexts shape living in diversity. The book will be a valuable resource for researchers and students of poverty, segregation and social mix, conviviality, the effects of international migration, urban and neighbourhood policies and governance, multiculturalism, social networks, social cohesion, social mobility, and super-diversity.

The Discourse of Europe Apr 05 2020 In this volume we approach the question of what it is to be European by considering the way in which citizens talk about their everyday lives, as they are perceived against the background of Europe and European issues. Hence, the volume will offer insights into the rarely glimpsed micro political world of ordinary talk and explore the way in which such talk in social interaction and other spheres might help us understand what Europe means to a range of its citizens. Using a range of broadly discursive approaches we will touch on, inter alia, issues of identity, youth, borders, ethnicity, local politics, and minority languages. In the end, we suggest, it is a common sense view of pragmatic utility that centres what it is to be European, and this is something which is continually fluid and shifting within ever changing social, historical and political circumstances.

Primitive Semitic Religion Today Sep 30 2019 Samuel Curtiss was a critical scholar who often departed from the reigning consensus of his day. Near the end of his career, Curtiss turned his attention to the Near East. He, like Wellhausen, believed that Israelite religion was a manifestation of a primitive Semitic religion that could best be recovered by a careful investigation of the practices of contemporary Arabian Bedouin. Curtiss spent fourteen months in the Near East to research this hypothesis, recording his discoveries in this book.

Race, Ethnography and Education Mar 29 2022 This book focuses on race and ethnography, and in particular, it addresses two significant issues. Firstly, leading thinkers and emerging scholars in the field explicate the complicated nature of race intersections, theories, and meanings in educational ethnography. The ethnographic accounts consider schooling, which is then extended to larger educational settings, bound by unique and peculiar histories and locations. By amalgamating this selection of papers into one issue, the book both challenges the effects of educational histories, policies and practices, by interrogating theories and meanings of race, and positions race and racism in ethnography with the hope of presenting new applications and developments in ethnographic methodologies, theories, and practices. The volume then develops the conversation by helping to build scholarship in understanding race meanings, intersections and theories in educational and social sciences. With the escalating attention given to the study of race scholarship in recent years, there is still considerable information that scholars in the field need to know about how ethnographers and ethnography, from diverse comparative and international schools and educational settings, respond to racialized and racist practices, while challenging and developing theories about race and racism in diverse global terrains and locations. This book was originally published as a special issue of Ethnography and Education.
