Éthique de la recherche en sociologie Apr 16 2021 Comment hiérarchiser les intérêts de connaissance et les exigences éthiques ? À l'heure où les pratiques d'enquête et de recherche en sciences sociales se trouvent de plus en plus souvent troublées par les enjeux éthiques qui s'y font jour et par l'importance croissante des dispositifs qui prétendent les réguler, cet ouvrage entend offrir un cadre de réflexion innovant et documenté. Conflits de loyauté à l'égard des enquêtés, poursuites en justice, accusations d'excuser les délinquances, multiplication des chartes et des comités d'éthique, recours aux big data, pressions exercées sur les chercheurs, mise en cause de la sociologie critique au nom de l'impératif de neutralisation axiologique, impossibilité d'enquêter en raison de l'exigence de consentement des acteurs, pression des commanditaires... La liste des difficultés auxquelles le chercheur est susceptible de se heurter pourrait encore s'allonger. S'appuyant sur de nombreux exemples où enjeux épistémologiques, méthodologiques et éthiques s'entrecroisent, l'ouvrage constitue un outil précieux pour le chercheur confronté aux dilemmes éthiques de sa pratique.

Young People Re-Generating Politics in Times of Crises Nov 04 2022 This book provides insight into the diverse ways young people from around the world are regenerating politics in innovative and multifaceted ways. The authors, who include academics and activists, challenge claims that young people are apolitical, apathetic and living up to the 'me generation' stereotype. Contributions cover a rich body of case examples of traditional and new forms of youth politics in response to situated injustices and political and socio-economic crises. Significant and optimistic, the collection presents strong evidence from across the globe that these developments are not isolated incidences, but are in fact part of a systemic, large-scale transformation leading to a regeneration of the political landscape by young people. The book is aimed at students and scholars in the fields of politics, sociology, policy studies and youth and childhood studies.

Artistic (Self)-Representations of Islam and Muslims Nov 23 2021 Artistic (Self)-Representations of Islam and Muslims: Perspectives Across France and the Maghreb is a collection of essays that explores the question of artistic representation(s)/self-representation(s) of Muslim religious and cultural identity in France, the Maghreb and in/between since the 2000s. The volume offers a plurality of feminine and masculine voices and points of view on cultural Islam (Franco-French, Franco-Maghrebi, Maghrebi), all the while addressing the impact of events like 9/11, the tragic attacks in France in 2015-2016 (Charlie Hebdo, Stade de France, Bataclan, Nice), and the Arab Spring. Taken together, the volume features a transnational and transversal set of artistic voices that are not looking for consensus, but rather invoke dissensus (Rancière) and a full range of expression. A necessary part of that full range of expression is (self)-representations: Muslims representing themselves, though this is no facile (self)-representations, as artists continue to use the properties of the imagination and performance to complexify an easy reading, reductive meaning, or oversimplified interpretation. This interdisciplinary study contributes to the fields of French and Francophone Studies, Humanities and Global/Cultural Studies such as political studies, sociology, political philosophy, literature, cinema, visual arts and media studies with a focus on broadening views on the topic of Islam and Muslim (self)-representations across disciplines.

Student Movements in Late Neoliberalism Oct 23 2021 This book inquires into the global wave of student mobilizations that have arisen in the aftermath of the economic crisis of 2008, accounting for their historical and sociological significance. More specifically, its eleven chapters explore the role of students as political actors: their ability to build effective organizations, to make political alliances with other actors, and to win public consensus, as well as their impact on cultural, political, and policy outcomes. To do so, the volume examines case studies in England, Chile, South Africa, Quebec, and Hong Kong, covering Europe, Africa, Asia, and North and Latin America. Grouped into two major sections, the collection covers the organizational structures of student movements and their alliances and outcomes. Ultimately, this volume examines the understudied political aspects of student unrest, exploring how student mobilizations—driven by indebtedness, precariousness, the corporatization of the university, and other issues—correspond to larger processes of change with wider implications in society.

Analysing Representations of Social Media in European News Media Discourse Jun 06 2020 This book explores representations of social media in European media discourses across different socio-historical contexts, demonstrating how such analysis can illuminate the tension between global and local in media discourses in today's globalised world. The volume draws on data from a trilingual corpus from different editions of the free daily Metro from Finland, France, and Greece spanning a five-year period, with a focus on Facebook and Twitter. Adopting a French discourse analysis approach, which takes as its point of departure the notion of “discourse as the social practice of representing”, the book integrates qualitative and quantitative analyses to investigate the social and political role depictions of social media play in specific socio-historical contexts. This approach brings to the fore both commonalities and differences in the popularity of specific platforms and coverage of specific news topics and hot-button issues. In so doing, the volume elucidates the ways in which global practices become integrated and immersed into local contexts, offering avenues for future research on social media in news discourses. This book will be of interest to scholars in applied linguistics, intercultural communication, discourse analysis, media studies, and cultural studies.

Generation Rising Sep 29 2019 First there was the Arab Spring, then the Indignados, then Occupy Wall Street. And then there was the Printemps érable — the Maple Spring. In 2011, proclaiming the need for austerity, Québec's governing Liberal Party announced a draconian increase in tuition fees. Enraged that the government would destroy a legacy of public education, so hard won during the 1960s Quiet Revolution — a legacy from which they themselves had reaped benefits — the youth of Québec took to the streets in a student strike under the banner of the carrés rouges. They fought not merely for education, but for the future: a future they watch being destroyed by the unrelenting march of capitalism, intent on the merciless exploitation of citizens and natural resources. Generation Rising is the story of the most important mass mobilization in Québec's (and Canada's) history. It is the story of six months of brutalization of youth by the police forces of the capitalist class, as the students went toe-to-toe against the corrupt and autocratic elite in an effort to construct a horizontal, participative and grassroots democracy. It is the story of the Internet generation deploying its mastery of social media to harness the forces of hundreds of thousands, and ultimately defeat a battle-hardened premier. At the end of it all, Québec's first social media mobilization had laid the foundations for a brave new future, where the old world of order and authority might finally be swept aside to make way for a new, twenty-first-century democracy. Le combat est avenir — the fight is the future, and the battle has just begun.

Concentration des médias, changements technologiques et pluralisme de l'information Jul 20 2021 Être bien informé constitue un élément indispensable pour participer aux choix collectifs et au vivre-ensemble en société. Qu'il s'agisse de voter lors des élections, de prendre part aux activités des partis politiques, de s'engager dans les mouvements communautaires ou associatifs, un certain consensus peut se faire sur l'importance du pluralisme de l'information. Il est cependant beaucoup plus difficile de se mettre d'accord sur ce que l'on entend par l'expression " pluralisme de l'information ", ainsi que sur les conditions mêmes pour favoriser un tel état. En proposant de mettre l'accent sur le pluralisme des voix ainsi que des formats et des types d'entreprises, le contenu de cet ouvrage nous invite à penser la diversité de façon plurielle et renouvelée. D'un côté, il apparaît important de revoir en ce sens les structures organisationnelles, les politiques publiques et les logiques dominantes, notamment économiques, alors que de l'autre il importe d'encourager des pratiques innovantes qui favorisent cette diversité. Cet ouvrage fait suite à une douzaine d'années de recherches consacrées à l'analyse des liens entre la concentration de la propriété des médias, les changements technologiques et le pluralisme de l'information.

Les Bois-Brûlés de l'Outaouais. Une étude ethnoculturelle des Métis de la Gatineau Dec 25 2021 Les Métis ont longtemps été cantonnés à l'ouest du Canada dans l'imaginaire collectif. La question demeure d'actualité selon le refus de certains de reconnaître la présence historique de Métis au Québec. Dans Bois-Brûlés, il est proposé que les Métis émergent plutôt au sein d'une diaspora formée de nombreuses communautés se trouvant sur l'entièreté du territoire couvert par les empires de la fourrure. Cette étude de la communauté métisse de la vallée de la Gatineau ouvre un nouveau pan de l'historiographie métisse et québécoise, en y intégrant la région de l'Outaouais. Cet ouvrage documente l'histoire d'une collectivité métisse longtemps occultée, en rassemblant une quantité impressionnante de données archivistiques et orales inédites. En adoptant une approche comparative, les trois auteurs combinent leur expertise en anthropologie, en sciences juridiques et en histoire. Ils présentent ainsi l'expérience identitaire des Métis de la vallée de la Gatineau, depuis le tournant du xix^e siècle jusqu'à nos jours. À travers deux siècles d'histoire, Bois-Brûlés nous enjoint à repenser l'autochtonie métisse au Québec.

Political and Constitutional Transitions in North Africa May 30 2022 The transformations which are taking place in the Arab world are dynamic processes characterised by a number of variables that one can refer to as actors and factors. The implications of the Arab uprisings are important for the world at large; the Arab world's successes, and failures, at this crucial moment may well serve as a model for other nations. Political and Constitutional Transitions in North Africa focuses on five Northern African countries- Tunisia, Egypt, Morocco, Libya and Algeria- examining specific institutions and actors participating in the political upheavals in North Africa since 2011, and placing them in a comparative perspective in order to better understand the processes at work. This book addresses issues pertinent to North African and Middle Eastern Studies, comparative constitutional law, political science and transitional studies and it contains contributions by experts in all these fields. Providing a significant contribution to the understanding of events that followed the immolation of Mohamed Bouazizi in Tunisia, this book is a valuable contribution to North African Studies, Middle Eastern Studies, Comparative Constitutional Law and Transitional Studies.

The State We're In Feb 01 2020 What makes people lose faith in democratic statecraft? The question seems an urgent one. In the first decades of the twenty-first century, citizens across the world have grown increasingly disillusioned with what was once a cherished ideal. Setting out an original theoretical model that explores the relations between democracy, subjectivity and sociality, and exploring its relevance to countries ranging from Kenya to Peru, The State We're In is a must-read for all political theorists, scholars of democracy, and readers concerned for the future of the democratic ideal.

Contending Legitimacy in World Politics Jan 14 2021 Legitimacy, along with security and democracy, is arguably one of the most widely used global buzzwords of the new millennium. Yet, the idea of political legitimacy is not new and has been constructed in different ways at different moments in history. This book problematizes this notion, from various contextual standpoints, disciplinary and theoretical perspectives. Taking a comparative, transnational and bottom-up approach to the study of political legitimacy, this book sheds light on multiple perceptions by different actors (institutions, civil society, majoritarian and minority subjects), analysing the notion of political legitimacy from a critical perspective. Questioning received wisdom or one-size-fits-all analyses, it leads to a reassessment of the link between legitimacy and sovereignty, and emphasises the demand by transnational civil society to go beyond identity politics, which produce logics of violence. This book was originally published as a special issue of Global Discourse.

Ce rapport montre à quel point il importe de prendre en compte la fragilité si l'on veut marquer des points dans la lutte contre la pauvreté.

Violence Against Women and Criminal Justice in Africa: Volume I Aug 01 2022 This book examines violence against women in Africa and criminal justice from the perspective of African scholars, practitioners and experts. As a global and long-standing issue, violence against women is gaining public visibility across the African continent with some states announcing a national crisis warranting immediate redress. At the global level, the elimination of all forms of violence against all women and girls forms a key part of United Nations Sustainable Development Goal 5: Gender Equality. Split across two volumes, these books present a comprehensive analysis of the latest research and theories, principles and practices of criminal justice systems, criminal justice accountability mechanisms, and the key challenges women face in their quest for justice on the African continent. Volume I focusses on legislation and its impact, the limitations of criminal justice responses, and the cultural and social norms regarding access to justice. Volume II examines sexual violence and vulnerable women's access to justice in Africa. They adopt a comparative approach that highlight gaps and good practices to provide a rich source of authoritative information for promoting an intra-African dialogue and cross-fertilization of ideas across the different criminal justice traditions in Africa. Both volumes seek to advance discussions on eliminating violence against women in Africa and speak to those interested in criminal justice, violence, gender studies and African legal studies.

Populism, Media and Education Sep 09 2020 Based on a major research project funded by the European Commission, Populism, Media and Education studies how discriminatory stereotypes are built online with a particular focus on right-wing populism. Globalization and migration have led to a new era of populism and racism in Western countries, rekindling traditional forms of discrimination through innovative means. New media platforms are being seen by populist organizations as a method to promote hate speech and unprecedented forms of proselytism. Race, gender, disability and sexual orientation are all being used to discriminate and young people are the preferred target for populist organizations and movements. This book examines how media education can help to deconstruct such hate speech and promote young people's full participation in media-saturated societies. Drawing on rich examples from Austria, Belgium, Bulgaria, France, Italy, Slovenia, and the UK - countries characterized by different political and cultural contexts – Populism, Media and Education addresses key questions about the meaning of new populism, the nature of e-engagement, and the role of education and citizenship in the digital century. With its international and interdisciplinary approach, this book is essential reading for academics and students in the areas of education, media studies, sociology, cultural studies, political sciences, discrimination and gender studies.

Global Private International Law Aug 21 2021 Providing a unique and clearly structured tool, this book presents an authoritative collection of carefully selected global case studies. Some of these are considered global due to their internationally relevant subject matter, whilst others demonstrate the blurring of traditional legal categories in an age of accelerated cross-border movement. The study of the selected cases in their political, cultural, social and economic contexts sheds light on the contemporary transformation of law through its encounter with conflicting forms of normativity and the multiplication of potential fora.

Struggles for Political Change in the Arab World Jul 08 2020 The advent of the Arab Spring in late 2010 was a hopeful moment for partisans of progressive change throughout the Arab world. Authoritarian leaders who had long stood in the way of meaningful political reform in the countries of the region were either ousted or faced the possibility of political if not physical demise. The downfall of long-standing dictators as they faced off with strong-willed protesters was a clear sign that democratic change was within reach. Throughout the last ten years, however, the Arab world has witnessed authoritarian regimes regaining resilience, pro-democracy movements losing momentum, and struggles between the first and the latter involving regional and international powers. This volume explains how relevant political players in Arab countries among regimes, opposition movements, and external actors have adapted ten years after the onset of the Arab Spring. It includes contributions on Egypt, Morocco, Kuwait, Saudi Arabia, Syria, Algeria, Sudan, Lebanon, Iraq, Jordan, Yemen, and Tunisia. It also features studies on the respective roles of the United States, China, Iran, and Turkey vis-à-vis questions of political change and stability in the Arab region, and includes a study analyzing the role of Saudi Arabia and its allies in subverting revolutionary movements in other countries.

Renewing Local Planning to Face Climate Change in the Tropics Jan 06 2023 This book is open access under a CC BY 4.0 license. This book aims to inspire decision makers and practitioners to change their approach to climate planning in the tropics through the application of modern technologies for characterizing local climate and tracking vulnerability and risk, and using decision-making tools. Drawing on 16 case studies conducted mainly in the Caribbean, Central America, Western and Eastern Africa, and South East Asia it is shown how successful integration of traditional and modern knowledge can enhance disaster risk reduction and adaptation to climate change in the tropics. The case studies encompass both rural and urban settings and cover different scales: rural communities, cities, and regions. In addition, the book looks to the future of planning by addressing topics of major importance, including residual risk integration in local development plans, damage insurance and the potential role of climate vulnerability reduction credits. In many regions of the tropics, climate planning is growing but has still very low quality. This book identifies the weaknesses and proposes effective solutions.

Vaincre le terrorisme djihadiste Mar 16 2021 Il y a trente ans (soit avant la première guerre en Irak), environ 500 attentats faisaient 350 morts par an. Aujourd'hui, après d'interminables guerres contre le terrorisme, le nombre d'attentats a été multiplié par 30 et le nombre de victimes par 100. Partout où nos forces sont engagées, le terrorisme se développe : soit nous déchaînons des rivalités communautaires (comme en Libye et dans le Sahel), soit nous cherchons à renverser des gouvernements (comme en Syrie ou en Irak) soit nous générons des mouvements de résistance (comme dans le Sahel et en Afghanistan). En se basant sur les textes originaux des stratèges du terrorisme djihadiste, sur les analyses après action établies par l'État Islamique lui-même après les attentats en France, en Grande-Bretagne et aux États-Unis, le livre examine la problématique du terrorisme et du djihadisme afin d'en expliquer les mécanismes, d'en extraire des stratégies d'action et de vaincre ce fléau. Jacques Baud a été membre du renseignement stratégique suisse. Spécialiste des pays de l'Est et chef de la doctrine des opérations de la paix des Nations Unies, il a été engagé dans des négociations avec les plus hauts responsables de l'armée et du renseignement russes juste après la chute de l'URSS. Au sein de l'OTAN, il a suivi la crise ukrainienne de 2014 puis a participé à des programmes d'assistance à l'Ukraine. Auteur de L'Affaire Navalny, Poutine : maître du jeu ? et Operation Z aux éditions Max Milo.

Humanitarian Intervention, Colonialism, Islam and Democracy Dec 01 2019 This book offers a critical analysis of the European colonial heritage in the Arab countries and highlights the way this legacy is still with us today, informing the current state of relations between Europe and the formerly colonized states. The work analyses the fraught relationship between the Western powers and the Arab countries that have been subject to their colonial rule. It does so by looking at this relationship from two vantage points. On the one hand is that of humanitarian intervention—a paradigm under which colonial rule coexisted alongside “humanitarian” policies pursued on the dual assumption that the colonized were “barbarous” peoples who wanted to be civilized and that the West could lay a claim of superiority over an inferior humanity. On the other hand is the Arab view, from which the humanitarian paradigm does not hold up, and which accordingly offers its own insights into the processes through which the Arab countries have sought to wrest themselves from colonial rule. In unpacking this analysis the book traces a history of international and colonial law, to this end also using the tools offered by the history of political thought. The book will be of interest to students, academics, and researchers working in legal history, international law, international relations, the history of political thought, and colonial studies.

Langages et écritures de l'exil Feb 12 2021 La réflexion que propose Langages et écritures de l'exil, avec une attention particulière portée à des textes de L'Ouest canadien comme terre d'asile et terre d'exil, cherche à faire ressortir le caractère fondamentalement ambivalent de l'exil, dont Edward Said a pu écrire qu'il « constitue étrangement un sujet de réflexion fascinant », et à témoigner de la propension apodictique de l'esprit humain à dire, à raconter, à construire et à se construire, par la parole ou par l'écriture, des récits qui partagent la souffrance, hurlent l'angoisse, clament une identité, revendiquent une voix. Cet ouvrage collectif regroupe des textes rassemblés à la suite d'un colloque international à l'University of Calgary tenu à l'automne 2014 et placé sous le patronage du Conseil de recherches en sciences humaines du Canada, de l'University of Alberta, de l'University of Calgary et de l'Université François-Rabelais de Tours.

Innovation in Methodology and Practice in Language Learning May 06 2020 This volume is composed of 24 papers originally presented as talks at the VIII National Conference of the Italian Association of University Language Centres (Associazione Italiana dei Centri Linguistici Universitari: AICLU), held at the University of Foggia, Italy, between 30 May and 1st June 2013. The contributions fall into five sections: 1) keynote addresses from plenary speakers; 2) innovative challenges for language centres; 3) new developments in teaching language for specific purposes; 4) proposals and case studies in Content and Language Integrated Learning; and 5) the use of new technologies in language learning. 18 papers are in English, four in Italian, one in French and one in German. The fact that three-quarters of the papers are in English reflects the way English has become the lingua franca of academic conferences today. However, in keeping with the ethos of CercleS (Confédération Européenne des Centres de Langues de l'Enseignement Supérieur, the pan-European organisation to which AICLU belongs), which is strongly committed to promoting plurilingualism, it was crucial that contributions would also be accepted in other languages. The volume represents the ‘state of the art’ in the field of language teaching and theory in university language centres not only in Italy, but also in other parts of Europe and the Mediterranean, and testifies to the rich variety of ways in which these centres are adapting and thriving in rapidly changing times.

La tecnosfera Jun 18 2021 Fiel a las intuiciones críticas de su primera obra (El desarrollo. Entre el simple crecimiento y el buen vivir, LOM, 2011), Raúl Claro nos relata el proceso de concatenación de las esferas terrestres, la Geosfera, la Biosfera y la Tecnosfera, estableciendo sus hitos fundamentales y evidenciando el giro altamente nocivo que supone esta última. A partir de ello, plantea como desafío ecológico, ético y político una nueva frontera alternativa: la Antroposfera.

When Students Protest Dec 05 2022 Student political action has been a major and recurring feature of politics across the globe throughout the past century. Students have been involved in a full range of public issues, from anti-colonial movements, anti-war campaigns, civil rights and pro-democracy movements to campaigns against neoliberal policies, austerity, racism, misogyny and calls for climate change action. Yet their actions are frequently dismissed by political elites and others as ‘adolescent mischief’ or manipulation of young people by duplicitous adults. This occurs even as many working in governments, traditional media and educational organisations attempt to suppress student movements. Moreover, much of mainstream scholarly work has deemed student politics as unworthy of intellectual attention. These three edited volumes of books help set the record straight. Written by scholars and activists from around the world, When Students Protest: Universities in the Global North is the third in this three-volume study that explores university student politics in the global north. Authors explore university and college student political action, especially over the past decade. It is just over fifty years since May 1968 when student protests erupted at Université Paris Nanterre in France and then spread across the globe. Contributors to this book demonstrate that despite repeated attempts by states, power elites and institutions to suppress and even criminalise student political action, student movements have always been part of the political landscape and remain a significant and potent source of political change and renewal.
